16th International Conference on Environmental Science and Technology (CEST2019)

4-7 September 2019 | Rhodes, GREECE

ABOUT

The 16th International Conference on Environmental Science and Technology will be held in the island of Rhodes, Greece from 4 to 7 September 2019.

CEST biennial series was launched in 1989 and it has become one of the leading environmental events worldwide where experts, scientists, entrepreneurs and representatives of public administration & social initiatives present state-of-the-art research and address current and emerging environmental issues.

CEST2019 coincides with the celebration of the 30-year anniversary of the series and we are aiming to make it a memorable event. The thematic areas of the conference are: Water and Wastewater Treatment and Reuse, Hydrology and Water Resources, Waste Management, Environmental Management and Policies, Environmental Pollution, Ecology and Ecosystem Management, Analysis of Environmental Systems, Environmental Health and Innovative Environmental Solutions.

During CEST2019 you will have the opportunity to:

- present and discuss your research with scientists from all over the world
- expand your network
- attend presentations covering the latest trends and innovations in the field of environmental science and technology
- meet with our prestigious speakers
- enjoy the island of Rhodes, one of the largest and most popular islands of the Dodecanese, known for its medieval castles, Byzantine churches, beaches and ancient archaeological sites

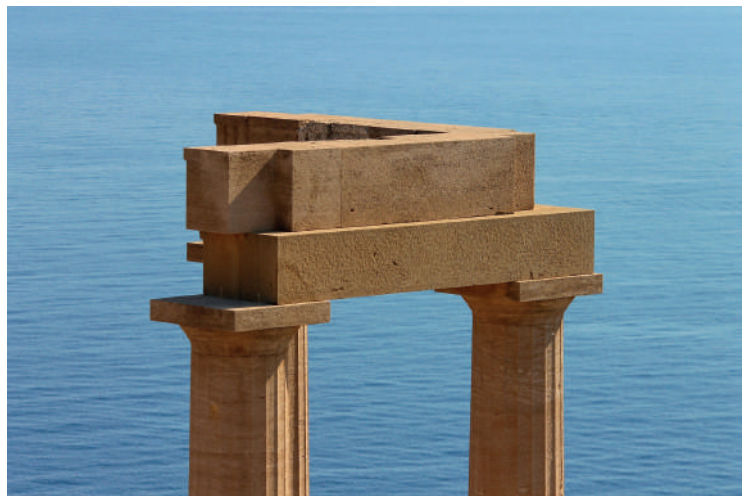

More info as well as registration and submission of papers are available at <http://cest.gnest.org>. The abstract submission deadline has been extended until 31 January 2019, while the full paper submission deadline is 8 May 2019.

All papers selected for either oral or poster presentation undergo a rigorous review process with the conference proceedings included in databases, such as, the Science Citation Index (ISI) and SRCosmos. Since 2015, all papers presented in CEST are submitted to cooperating journals for review and publication in special issues.

The conference is hosted by the University of the Aegean in Greece in collaboration with the Region of South Aegean (Greece), the University of Salerno (Italy) and the Imperial College London (UK). It is also supported by UNESCO's World Water Assessment Programme. The main organiser is Global NEST (Network of Environmental Science and Technology). With members from over 60 countries, Global Nest is a multi-disciplinary, international scientific movement which focuses on innovative environmental issues.
